

MINERS INSIST ON 1903 SCALE

Ultimatum Given To Operators By President Mitchell Not Satisfactory.

THE REFUSAL MEANS A BIG STRIKE

Representatives Of The Men Are Determined To Make No Further Concessions Leaving Blame On Operators.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.] Indianapolis, Ind., March 27.—The joint scale committee of the bituminous operators and miners of the central competitive district unanimously decided today to report a disagreement to the session of the joint conference, which was held this afternoon.

Stand by 1903 Scale.
Restoration of the 1903 scale would mean an increase in wages for the men of 5.55 per cent. This they consented to accept upon seeing there was no possibility that the operators would agree to grant the increase of 12 1/2 per cent, which originally was asked.

The morning session of the committee Monday was without result. After the noon adjournment Mr. Mitchell took the floor and said he had been informed on reliable authority that there were rumors that the operators believed that if they would stand firmly by their position and prolong the sessions of the committee the miners would agree to concede from their demand for an increase in wages. He said he wanted to explain to the operators that there would be under no circumstances an agreement at less than the scale of 1903, unless after a disagreement the operators could enforce less terms; and he did not believe they could.

Miners Will Stick Together.
T. L. Lewis, vice president of the United Mine Workers, said: "I want to say more than President Mitchell has said. We will be divided, neither in this scale conference, out of this scale conference, in the convention nor anywhere else, so far as I am concerned. I have hopes that we may be able to find a solution of our present difficulties, but that solution will only come when both sides are ready to sign a wage scale agreement carrying with it the prices paid in 1903."

R. R. Hammond, president of the Deering Coal company, said he had spoken with many of the largest consumers of coal in Chicago and that all of them had endorsed the stand taken by the operators against an increase in wages. It is said that the Ohio operators are gathering the views of big coal consumers in that state for the purpose of showing Francis L. Robbins that he is practically alone in his advocacy of an increase in wages. Mr. Robbins is said to have representatives in a number of eastern cities who are visiting large consumers and endeavoring to enlist their support in his campaign to avert a strike. He is said to have an understanding with President Mitchell on that point, and that is the real cause for keeping up the negotiations when both sides are practically agreed that nothing can be accomplished by further conferences.

TRAVEL PAY

Secretary Taft Tells of Abuses of the System by Army Officers.

Washington, March 27.—How General Wood's expenses around the world were paid by the government of the United States and how a number of officers detailed to go from Hongkong to Canton put in expense accounts for a trip to San Francisco was told by Secretary of War Taft to the Senate committee on military affairs Monday. The Secretary admitted that there were abuses in connection with "travel pay" both in favor of and against army officers. General Wood was suffering from injuries received in Cuba by striking his head against a chandelier, Secretary Taft said, and was granted permission to come to the United States from Manila to have his skull trephined. He went to Hongkong on a transport and from there traveled on a liner. He was granted travel pay for the trip, and later, when the operation did not prove entirely successful, was ordered back to Manila by way of London, so that he might consult a specialist there, and his travel expenses were paid. General Corbin applied for permission to travel on a liner and have his expenses paid, the Secretary said, but this was refused. When the Secretary was in Hongkong, he said, he was ordered to go to Canton to consult the Viceroy in regard to the boycott, and took his staff of officers in full uniform with him. He gave them an order for mileage on that trip, he said, and later found that they had construed it to mean mileage to San Francisco.

CASE AGAINST JOHN R. WALSH IS BEGUN

The Preliminary Hearing of Chicago Financier on Charges of Irregularities.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] Chicago, Ill., March 27.—Preliminary hearing was begun today in the case of John R. Walsh, who was arrested some time ago on charges growing out of the failure of the Chicago National bank, of which institution he was president. Much interest is manifested in the proceeding as it is expected that some startling details regarding Walsh's financial methods will be brought to light as a result of the government's investigations. Particular interest centers in the memorandum notes for sums aggregating $600,000, the discovery of which led the bank examiner to order the bank to close.

KILLED WIFE AFTER MANY LITTLE SPATS

Distinguished Veteran of Prussian Army Admits Guilt, But Says "She Was Too Sassy."

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] Belleville, Ont., March 27.—Ferdinand Klingbell, a well-to-do farmer and a veteran of the Prussian army who was decorated on the field of battle by Crown Prince Frederick personally with the iron cross of Prussia, is to be tried for wife murder at the spring Assizes which begin today. The crime was committed three weeks ago at the Klingbell farm near this city. The aged veteran admits that he pounded his wife to death and gives as the reason that "she was too sassy." The murdered woman was about seventy-two years old, while her husband is about ten years younger. The house is in an isolated place, and no neighbors reside within a mile of the place. On March 5 the hired man after doing the chores came to the house and, opening the door saw the woman lying on the floor with her face covered with blood. He immediately came to the city and notified the police and the arrest of Klingbell was made the same day. The woman's head had been pounded into a pulp, though Klingbell declares that he used nothing but his fists. The trouble between the husband and wife arose over their son Herman, who left home some time ago and went to reside in Rochester. The man declared that Herman was not his son and the matter was the subject of frequent quarrels between the two.

MUCH USED DRUG FALLS TWO THIRDS IN PRICE BY EXPIRATION OF PATENT

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] New York, March 27.—For years past the druggists of the United States have been compelled to pay $1 an ounce for phenacetin, one of the most widely used of drugs. Today, for the first time, they are enabled to buy the drug at thirty-three cents an ounce, a saving in cost of 67 per cent. The reason for this remarkable reduction in cost is in no way philanthropic or humanitarian, but simply utilitarian. In short, the patent under which this product has so long been manufactured expired today, so that now any one can manufacture phenacetin.

Five handicap events are entered, a five-mile run, sixteen-pound shotput, twelve-pound shotput for high and preparatory schools, pole vault and two-mile run. ## BLUE AND GRAY DO HOMAGE TO WHEELER

Memorial Services in Honor of "Fighting Joe" Held at Atlanta, Ga. This Afternoon.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] Atlanta, Ga., March 27.—The spacious limits of the Grand opera house this afternoon barely sufficed to contain the chosen hundreds bidden to attend the national memorial exercises in honor of the late General Joseph Wheeler. The veterans of two wars occupied the seats of honor and the remainder of the audience included many men of prominence. The auditorium was tastefully decorated with flowers and the confederacy. The noted guests were escorted from the capitol to the opera house by the state militia and various patriotic and semi-military organizations.

The gathering at the opera house was called to order by Colonel T. Hardin Jones of Camp A. Wheeler's cavalry, who acted as master of ceremonies. The appearance on the stage of General Stephen D. Lee, commander-in-chief of the United Confederate Veterans; Corporal James R. Tanner, commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, and the other noted guests of the occasion were greeted with loud applause.

Governor Torrell of Georgia delivered the introductory remarks; his address being preceded by the opening prayer and several selections of music. Governor Torrell introduced General Bennett H. Young, of Kentucky, who delivered the oration of the day. General Young spoke eloquently of his personal acquaintance and friendship with the late General Wheeler. He sketched the useful and notable services of General Wheeler, his brilliant career as a cavalry leader in the war between the states, his part in the Spanish war, the work he had done in congress, and the esteem in which he was held by the entire country.

General Young was followed by a number of other prominent speakers who added their eulogies of the life and character of General Wheeler. Among them were Corporal Tanner, General Lee, General Julian S. Carr of North Carolina; Major Charles R. Miller of Cleveland, and Colonel Thomas M. Owen of Montgomery, Ala.

ARREST CLERKS IN BANK CASE

Employees Of The Enterprise National Bank Are Taken In Custody Today.

THE CONSPIRACY CHARGE IS MADE

Allegation That Unnamed Officer Benefited By Action Of Subordinate To Misapply Bank Funds.

Pittsburg, Pa., March 27.—Five arrests were made Monday as a result of the failure of the Enterprise National bank of Allegheny, which suddenly closed its doors last October following the sensational suicide of its cashier, T. Lee Clark. The arrests were made by United States deputy marshals, who took into custody Forest B. Nichols, private secretary to William H. Andrews; Charles Menzemer, George R. Ralston and Edward P. McMillan, employees of the Enterprise bank, and George E. Cook, an alleged partner of Cashier Clark in several real estate deals.

The charge against Menzemer is that as clerk of the bank he certified checks drawn upon the bank by persons who had not sufficient funds on deposit with the bank to meet the checks drawn and so certified, thus constituting a false certification.

Conspiracy to Defraud.

Nichols is charged with conspiring with an officer of the bank, who is not named, to abstract and willfully apply unlawfully moneys, funds and credits of the bank. Ralston and McMillan, who were clerks in the bank, are charged with making false entries in the books to defraud the bank, while Cook is charged with conspiring to defraud the bank by getting false credits.

The charges were formulated some time ago and for weeks there have been rumors that four arrests would be made. The warrants were not issued, however, because the officials desired to secure evidence that was

UNIVERSITY TALK OF THE ATHLETIC TEAMS

President Van Hise is in Favor of a Team to Represent the University.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] Madison, Wis., March 27.—Action by the University of Wisconsin faculty regarding the reforms in football and other intercollegiate athletics, adopted or proposed by the two faculty conferences of the "big nine" will be had upon the return of President C. R. Van Hise April 2 from California, where he has been attending the annual meeting of the association of presidents of American universities. There is no question about the adoption of the reforms here. The Wisconsin faculty may go even further and take independent action which will in effect eliminate intercollegiate gridiron contests. It has developed that President Van Hise is in favor of a compromise, some middle ground between absolute suspension of intercollegiate football as at first proposed by the Wisconsin faculty and the reformed football as proposed by the intercollegiate faculty conferences. The most probable compromise is for Wisconsin and as many other "big nine" universities as can be prevailed upon to join the movement to make up their football schedules with only minor schools, such as ordinarily appear on the earlier games of the schedules and are called "practices" games, distinguishing from "intercollegiate" or "championship" games. Such a plan, it is urged, would eliminate the strenuous, championship-seeking methods so much labored against as "productive" of professionalism, and would at the same time preserve the game as reformed, so that the schools would be better able to resume championship schedules a year or two hence. It is also contemplated that such a plan would give opportunity for the Badgers to clean out some features at home which might be overlooked were intercollegiate contests to be played next fall.

Lack of money and a coach, assure that Wisconsin will not have a baseball team this spring, but interclass and interfraternity nines will be organized, meetings having already been held toward this end. These teams will be better this year than previously, for they will involve the best material in the student body, which has hitherto been monopolized by the varsity team and squad of candidates.

STATE NOTES

W. A. Holt has filed nomination papers as an independent candidate for mayor of Oconto. He was defeated for the republican nomination at the primary election. An inquest was held in the case of Howard Thompson of Mattoon, Ill., killed at Racine by an interurban car. The jury rendered a verdict that he came to his death through his own carelessness. The old damage suit of William E. Hocking against the Windsor Spring company, which has been in the courts of Kenosha county for several years, was decided when a jury awarded Hocking $5,000. Hocking lost an eye while employed at the factory.

TROLLEY LINE TO MILWAUKEE TALK

AN EXCHANGE PUBLISHED THE
FOLLOWING STORY.

IT WOULD TAP JANESVILLE

This with Connection with Rockford
Line Would Reach Into Illinois.

It is said in Milwaukee that a franchise will soon be asked for a line to enter Milwaukee from the west. The line contemplated will be a railway running out from Milwaukee, through Waukesha and Jefferson counties via Watertown and Port, Atkinson to Janesville and to connect at this point with the present Janesville, Rockford and Beloit line. This line is soon to be extended via Stoughton to Madison and thus the proposed line will eventually connect with some very valuable electric railway territory, says an exchange.

Jefferson Men Interested
Frank Hoard and Harry Cornish of Fort Atkinson and George Kispert of Jefferson were in Milwaukee Friday on business connected with the construction of the proposed line, and it is understood that the company is quick in feeling out the situation to see if a connection cannot be made with either the Milwaukee Electric Railway & Light company's Waukesha line or the proposed Chicago-Milwaukee line so that an entrance to the city can be made over one of these lines.

Capital Already Promised
The Jefferson county people have capital themselves, and furthermore, it is said, in correspondence with eastern electric railway men, who have given encouragement of being willing to back the proposed line. The first portion of the line built will probably be westward from Fort Atkinson and Jefferson to Janesville. Immediate steps for the organization of the company are soon to be taken and its articles of incorporation will soon be filed. If this line is built Janesville will become a part of the movement for a greater Milwaukee. This movement is taking definite shape in Milwaukee now, the people rising to demand better transportation facilities with the outside world. Commenting on this phase of the question, the Milwaukee Journal says:

To Be Connected
Milwaukee ought to be connected with the many growing towns to the southwest—Elkhorn, Beloit, Janesville, Burlington and others. The resort regions of the counties surrounding Milwaukee should be accessible to Milwaukee people by means of electric lines. There are dozens of lines which Milwaukee ought to possess. The country that would be tapped by them is wonderfully rich and its connection with Milwaukee would be of immeasurable gain to each.

WILL TEST THE NEW SUPERIOR GRAIN LAW

Case Will Be Tried in the United States Court by Judge Sanborn Shortly.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Madison, Wis., March 27.—The constitutionality of the Wisconsin grain inspection law enacted by the legislature of 1905 and amended at the special session last December, is being tested in the federal court here before Judge A. L. Sanborn of the western district of Wisconsin. The litigation involves the validity of the grain inspection system established by the legislature for the city of Superior after several long and bitter contests in the legislature. Elevator and railroad interests of Minnesota, particularly centered at Duluth, never took kindly to the establishment of the Wisconsin inspection system at Superior and it is these interests that now seek to have the law declared unconstitutional. It is alleged that the act contravenes the fourteenth amendment to the United States constitution, that it is in violation of the interstate commerce law and that it cannot stand for these and other reasons. The plaintiff is the Globe Elevator company and the Great Northern railroad corporation has a cross bill. The attorneys fighting the law in the arguments in court here are O. H. Greenhart, John A. Murphy, Solon L. Perrin and Ralph Whelan. Representing the Wisconsin grain commission are L. K. Luse and Senator George B. Hudnall. The latter was the father of the bill, leading the fight in the legislature of 1903, ending in the defeat of the measure in the senate, and in the session of 1905, when the bill was passed with little opposition. Mr. Murphy is the attorney for the Great Northern and Mr. Perrin for the Omaha road.

In the Ohio and Pennsylvania fleeces medium unwashed are moving moderately well, supplies not large, the 44-grades bringing 30 to 31c.

The early shearing is now being done in Michigan. The Arizona wools are proven to be lighter in shrinkage than was expected.

With the improved machinery and expert manufacturing goods, the leading favorite the coming season in wools, Danish cloth and menderized goods are cutting quite an furor in the consumption of wools. In the past three to five years the consumption of wool has been at a decline, being 1 and 1/2 pounds per capita less, the result of which means over 1,000,000 pounds less wool being consumed at the present time yearly than it was four to six years previous.

BAD WEATHER FAILS TO STOP BIG CROWD

West Side Theatre Well Filled on the Opening Night—John L.
Sullivan the Feature.

In the same manner in which John L. Sullivan has shattered many traditions of the prize ring and has, in addition, disproved the old saying that nobody can buck the weather. Though it was raining and conditions were disagreeable, typical of March, a large crowd, and among them many ladies, braved the storm and attended the West Side Theatre. The house was well filled and the opening night proved all that the management wished for. The bill, with the great John L. Sullivan, is excellent. With his manager, Frank Hall, as announcer, Mr. Sullivan presents an exceedingly clear and very steady set of moving pictures, showing the much-talked-of Corbett-McCoy bout, in which McCoy was knocked out in the fifth. The great fighter himself gives a monologue and a short sparring exhibition. His monologue is clever and well fitted to the mighty voice and last evening brought forth continued applause. In response he told a number of stories, all of which were of Ireland's sons, and the narrator evidenced that he was a master of the brogue. In his sparring partner, Sullivan showed that he was still clever with his fists and fast, though probably somewhat hampered by weight. Cutler is a young man of the heavy-weight class and by appearance and work promises much as a fighter. In a short introductory speech, Mr. Hall claimed for John L. Sullivan the fighting championship of the world. This he said was secured from Jake Kilrain in a seventy-five-round go under the London rules, where the turf is the arena and the hitting is done with bare hands. This has never been taken away. However, the boxing championship which was held by him for eight years has been lost. The remainder of the program is very good. Trask and Murray, singers and dancers; George Hatch in illustrated songs; Dan Robey, blackface comedian; the Stork Trio, and motion pictures are presented. Mr. Hatch is as popular as ever, while Dan Robey stands out as a leader among the others. Miss Gertrude Lake presides at the piano. The attraction is one which ladies and children can attend and enjoy.

For Constable—
EMIL PAUTZ

John L. Sullivan is still fat and sassy.

Rock river may be expected to rise to the occasion soon.

The voting machines will be used at the election next Tuesday.

H. L. Maxfield should be given a rousing majority next Tuesday.

Did you read what L. P. Towne said of the judicial campaign yesterday?

Next Tuesday is election day in case anyone has forgotten the fact.

Remember, March came in like a lamb and it follows the old maxim will go out like a lion.

Roosevelt usually says the right thing in the right place despite the opposition press.

The ground-hog theory is all right. The rodent is certainly a prize winner regarding weather futurities.

It would appear as though Missouli's really making those Standard Oil people tell the truth at last.

County politics are soon to begin booming and the local nestors can tell how it was done before the war.

Remember, when you vote on Tuesday next, vote against the Dun pocket ballot law. Do not forget this!

Wall street can have a flurry nowadays without the money market of the world being affected in the least.

Alcohol for chemical purposes will probably be admitted free of duty. This is a move in the right direction by the present congress.

A saloon canvass may be all right for local municipal campaigns, but for a circuit judgeship it is a doubtful custom to originate.

David Rose and Arnold appear to be the two strongest candidates in Milwaukee today for the mayorship, but Becker may slip in and beat them both.

Janesville is to have short ice measure this year. That is, you cannot buy as big a chunk for a dime as you could before we saved money on the coal bill.

Ex-Congressman Bushnell is a candidate for the supreme court judgeship and as an old soldier he should have a warm following among this element of the voters.

In every ward but the fifth there is a republican ticket to be voted for and all republicans should be sure to remember this fact and vote accordingly.

The Milwaukee Free Press apparently has made a muck of the Milwaukee municipal campaign and is trying to lay the blame all on the Sentinel as usual.

What is this we hear about the new civil service law being faulty? We all know the primary law is but another of the pet reform measures to be cast aside.

Jim Davidson appears to be laying his live wires near the surface, not underground, and some of the other candidates are liable to trip up in their scramble for office.

George Buchholz' chance of election in the second ward are very bright and his endeavor to become a city father should be endorsed by all the republicans in the ward.

Another battle in the Philippines in which more American troops were killed, but still it is to be expected that some anti-administration men will say, "poor natives!"

Now Pat Crowe's wife seeks a divorce from him for neglect for fifteen years. It is pretty hard to have the officers of the law after you for that long and then to come home and find your wife has the broom handy.

Republicans of Janesville are advised to vote the republican ticket at the coming municipal election. The men selected at the primary are all good and true men and deserve the support of the members of the party they represent.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE.

One by one statements appear in the Gazette relative to the judicial campaign that show very clearly that the endorsement of Judge Sale is not unanimous by the members of the Rock county bar. The election of the circuit judge lies with the people alone. The taxpayers who support the court are to have the final voice in the selection of their judge for the next six years. There are four candidates in the field and of the four two are from Rock county. For the furthering of the best interest of the court the judge should be a Janesville resident. Both the Rock county candidates live in Janesville. Both are judges of courts at the present time. The question is, which one of the two can poll a sufficient number of votes to assure the selection of a Rock county man as judge of the court? As the Gazette has stated before it has the greatest respect for Judge Sale, but feels that his strength is confined to Rock county alone, while Judge Dunwiddie will poll a large vote in both Green and Jefferson counties. Taking these facts into consideration all voters are advised to cast their ballots for Judge Dunwiddie at the coming election, thus insuring the retention of the court to a Rock county man. The danger of the election of Judge Grimm is apparent to all who have considered the situation and in order to offset the vote he is sure to get Judge Dunwiddie should have the united support of Rock county voters who consider it essential that the court be retained in Janesville. L. P. Towne, one of the ablest lawyers at the Rock county bar has written a communication to the Gazette in which he states he did not sign the Sale petition and cannot see how his name appeared on it. Doubtless this is true of many others whose names have appeared there for the purpose of misleading the public. Their reticence in speaking is probably due to the fact that the publicity the affair has taken is distasteful to them. The voice of the people favors Judge Dunwiddie and the Gazette echoes that voice.

WHY YOU SHOULD VOTE FOR JUDGE DUNWIDDIE

We have heard nothing to Judge Dunwiddie's discredit, except that some of his decisions have been reversed by the supreme court. But in this respect he shows as good a record as any judge in the state with one or two exceptions. Judge Becker has said that were it a choice between Dunwiddie or Sale or Grimm he would support Dunwiddie.—Monroe Sentinel.

Green County Sentiment.
Careful inquiry among the jurors and lawyers from all parts of Green county in attendance upon court at Monroe establishes absolutely the fact that there is no Sale sentiment in that county. As one man expressed it: "There won't be a corporal's guard vote for him; we don't know him. It will be all Dunwiddie and Becker with a few in the eastern part for Grimm." Opinions differ as to whether Judge Dunwiddie or Judge Becker will carry the county, friends of each declaring in favor of their choice, but Judge Dunwiddie's supporters are very enthusiastic and are convinced that he will have a good majority. If Judge Dunwiddie gets only half of the total vote of Green county and Judge Sale gets a "corporal's guard" of votes there, which is the stronger candidate?

Exciting Scene at the Bijou Theatre in Rockford—Frank Hall Successful.

Frank Hall, who is managing John L. Sullivan and is a guest at the Myers Hotel, has had an exciting time in the past few days which culminated in Rockford yesterday by the payment of the dollars which settled one suit for twenty-five thousand and one suit for ten thousand dollars. The Rockford Republic of last evening prints the following regarding the matter:

Patrons of the Bijou theatre Saturday evening witnessed an acrobatic feat not included on the program when a performer, Robt. Eldredge Hutchinson, known as Eldredge the Sand Artist, leaped over the footlights to escape having papers in a $25,000 damage suit served on him by Sheriff Collier. Eldredge was later served with the papers, however, and a sensible agreement resulted between all the parties.

The whole thing started some time ago, it seems, when Frank Hall, manager for John L. Sullivan, paid Eldredge $10 too much salary. Since then he has been "laying" for Eldredge, and last week he cornered him and his wife in Beloit. Angry words were spoken, there is said to have been a "flashing of guns," and Eldredge's wife is said to have been insulted. However, Hall did not get his money, so when he learned Eldredge was booked at the Bijou he placed the matter in Attorney F. A. Tecknor's hands. When Eldredge learned the attorneys were on his trail, he consulted legal advice and the result was that a $10,000 damage suit was filed by the Hutchinsons against Hall. The latter retaliated with a $25,000 suit, and it was to evade the serving of these papers that Eldredge jumped the footlights and furnished much excitement to the patrons of the Bijou. However, he and Hall finally had a consultation. Hall was given his $10 and the $25,000 in suits were dismissed.

A Silk Dress For $4.06

The Very Newest Silks for Shirt Waist Suits

50c a yard would be very reasonable, but we give you at this sale 14 yards for $4.06, or 5 yards for a waist pattern for $1.45.

The Joke is On the Other Fellow.

He said: Brown, buy that lot of Silks, they are mighty cheap,—put on a sale and ship me what is left at end of two weeks.

From the way the ladies of Janesville are taking hold of these Silks, looks like a repetition of the old story of the boys and the apple—Jack said, Bob, give me the core. Bob said, There won't be no core. We fear the other fellow won't get many silks.

50c Shirt Waist Suitings at 29c; 60c ones with a pretty dark pattern at 33c, and the stylish Jasper Gray Silks in hair line and graduated stripes—Silks 27 inches wide and selling at a dollar everywhere go here at 79c. The 27 inch soft, durable $1.25 Taffetas in 12 colors at 89c are world beaters.

If You Are Wise Your Girl Will Wear Silk Dresses This Summer.

Think of it, a 27 inch India Silk that will wash perfectly at only 48c a yard. Take a girl of 10 years, for instance—about 5 yards of silk at 48c is only $2.40. For larger girls the cost would be between $3.00 and $4.00, and for the little tots from $1.25 to $2.00. And such pretty silks—White, Pink, Blue, Turquoise, Navy, Cardinal and all best colors. Just as cheap as a good wash goods and much richer.

You can afford to buy the girl a silk dress if you buy here this week—and, Lady, how about yourself? Would a full yard wide colored edge Black Taffeta at 98c interest you, or a heavy Peau de Soie of the same width at $1.19.

There will be some disappointed women on these two silks, so come early. When you figure on the amount remember the width, 36 inches—don't take a great deal you know.

Our White Wash Habutai Silks at 48c, 60c and 89c excite the admiration of every woman who sees them—ought to; they are worth from 65c up to $1.15.

Now we have talked SILK SENSE to you, it won't take you long to figure what you want; then come at once.

She says that Dr. Richards (who is doing her dental work) really does do painless work.

She affirms that he cut off a tooth, took out a live nerve and fitted on a porcelain crown for her all without hurting her.

These genuine testimonials are very interesting, as they reveal to the general public knowledge of the fact that we have in Janesville a man who is doing the very latest, up-to-date, 20th century, painless dentistry.

And that he is SUCCESSFUL in his claims to painless work.

PRINCIPALS IN THE SMALL RIOT

ON EIGHT O'CLOCK INTERURBAN CAR LAST NIGHT

PLEADED GUILTY IN COURT

Paul Hastings and Arthur Pye Paid Fines of $10 and Costs—T. H. Miller Fined $8

As the eight o'clock northbound interurban car leaving Beloit last evening reached the intersection of State and Grand streets it was boarded by three young men from Clinton who took seats in the smoking compartment. Conductor R. O. Whipple and Motorman Fred Michaels were in charge. When the conductor presently reached these men and asked them for their fares, T. H. Miller, proffered a $10 bill from which the 30 cents was taken and the proper change returned. Arthur Pye, the second member of the trio, feigned sleep and refused to be aroused sufficiently to comprehend anything that was being said to him. Conductor Whipple, after giving Pye a minute or two to find the money, turned to Paul Hastings, the third member of the group. The latter showed some railway trainman's receipts and asked if they were good for the ride and upon being told that they could not be accepted, announced that they were all he could offer for his transportation. Thereupon Conductor Whipple told him that he would have to pay or get off and turned to Pye to make a final effort to collect his fare. Both men intimated that they would get off the car and the conductor pulled the bell-rope and brought it to a stop about halfway between the city of Beloit and Yost's Park. He then took hold of Pye's arm and was making an effort to drag him out through the front door when he was attacked by Miller. Hastings joined in and a general melee resulted with the motorman and one of the passengers, Edward Piheld, doing what they could to help Conductor Whipple defend himself and get the unruly passengers unloaded. Miller was warned to get back to his seat but insisted on being in the mix-up with the result that he was tossed out of the car and into a goodsized puddle alongside the track. While the conductor was devoting his attention to the other combatants, however, he clambered back into the coach. Eventually it became evident that it would be impossible to get the three men out and keep them out and the attempt was abandoned by the car crew. The flow of oaths and obscene epithets from the Clintonites subsided and the journey was resumed. When the sub-station was reached a telephone message was sent to the police force, with the result that Officers Brown, Bear, and Fanning stepped aboard at the Eastern avenue crossing and placed the three disturbers of the peace under arrest. When examined at the police station it was found that one had $65 on his person; another, $14, and the third, $9.

Pleaded Guilty in Court
Looking very much ashamed of themselves and one of them—Pye—with a black eye as the result of the encounter, the three youths presented themselves in municipal court this morning to answer to the charge of using profane and obscene language in the hearing of passengers on the said interurban car and conducting themselves in a riotous manner. After consultation with Attorney Jesse Earle, they decided to plead guilty. Miller spoke in behalf of himself and his companions, stating that Hastings had offered to pay his fare and Pye's before the melee was fairly under way. He admitted that they had been drinking. Hastings said that his railroad certificates had always been honored on interurban lines theretofore. Hastings is the young man who received a good drubbing on Milwaukee street, Janesville, on the night of Tuesday, March 13, for making advances to two ladies whose husbands happened to be walking a few paces in the rear of them. He escaped a jail sentence by paying his watch with the sheriff and raising the $4.10 fine and costs.

Scored by T. S. Nolan

Attorney T. S. Nolan, who, with Conductor Whipple was present to represent the interurban road, said that if given opportunity he would present witnesses to show that no offer to pay the two fares was made. "This thing should be stopped," he said. "These outlaws should not be allowed to drive women into hysterics with their rioting. We will show, if given the opportunity, that these men not only did not offer to pay any fare but that one of them took a cash fare receipt out of a minister's hand in order to have evidence that he had paid." Judge Piheld said that he hadn't much doubt of the correctness of the view that no offer to pay the fares was made. He thought the defendants had already been punished to some extent and imposed fines of $10 and $2 costs each on Paul Hastings and Arthur Pye, and a fine of $8 and $2 costs on T. H. Miller, all of which were paid.

STREET CAR STRUCK
HORSE AND BUGGY

Frank Coen and Wife of La Prairie Injured in Accident Here—Sunday Morning.

While coming to church in Janesville Sunday morning, Frank Coen and wife of the town of La Prairie met with an accident near the Buob brewery at the foot of South Main street. Their horse, shying at a pile of dirt in the road, dashed onto the street railway tracks just as a car happened along. The animal was struck and became terribly frightened. Kicking furiously in its efforts to escape danger the horse hit Mr. Coen in the face, directly over the nose, and Mrs. Coen in the side. Medical treatment was necessary, but it is thought that nothing serious will result. The buggy was badly demolished.

WASHOUT ON LINE TO MINERAL POINT

Traffic Blocked Beyond Gratiot—Trains Failed to Arrive Here—Work Train to Scene.

During the night there was a washout on the Mineral Point division of the St. Paul road between Gratiot and Mineral Point and today traffic beyond Gratiot is entirely blocked. The report reached here this morning that the water was from ten inches to five feet deep the entire distance between the towns and it was believed that the roadbed was very uniform. The Mineral Point-Janesville passenger was not sent through and the Shullsburg-Gratiot stub made the trip here after reaching Gratiot, where it usually connects with the Mineral Point-Janesville passenger. A work train, with ten cars of cinders and three cars of ties, was sent out from Madison this morning to repair the damage as rapidly as possible, but it is not known when traffic will be opened. This portion of the line lies in a valley and though trains are accustomed to go through rains are coming to a halt at this time of the year conditions have not been as bad as at present for some time.

FREIGHT WRECK IN YARDS LAST NIGHT

Switch Engine Sideswiped Train, Demolishing Box Car and Damaging Tender.

At about half past eleven o'clock last night a wreck occurred in the local yards of the Northwestern railway company. No one sustained even a slight injury as a consequence but considerable damage was done to one switch engine, a box car, its contents and the rails and traffic was blocked for a time. The accident happened near the tower at the south end of the yards. A heavy freight train was pulling from the south and a switch engine, in charge of Engineer Enfield, who recently came here from Chicago, backed into it from a siding. One large box car was stove in and lifted from the rails. Before the locomotive could be stopped the car was thrown over onto its side and the tank on the engine tender was demolished. The car was loaded with sewer piping and though a portion of the cargo was broken the greater part was saved. The engine was taken to the round-house for repairs and the wreck of the car was picked up today. The tracks will be in condition again tomorrow.

ARE TO LAUNCH TWO HOUSEBOATS SUNDAY

"Summer Homes" of W. John Lawrence and Bert Van Houten to Be Put on River.

Unless present plans miscarry the first two houseboats to be owned by Janesville parties and floating on the bosom of Rock river will be launched Sunday. The event is to take place from the east shore about a block north of the Fourth avenue bridge. The two vessels, though not complete as yet, will be ready for use when warm weather arrives. One is the property of Bert Van Houten and the other belongs to W. John Lawrence, manager of the Grand Brewery agency here. The boats were built by George Barriage, the construction work being done during the cold months in a shed next to the Janesville, South and Door company's plant on North River street. The hull dimensions are 10x32 feet; the cabin is 10x24. In the cabin there will be a parlor, a dining-room and a kitchen, while bunks will be hung from the walls. In front of the cabin is a deck large enough to serve as a porch does on a house. The upper deck will be raised, but not covered by a canopy. Stern wheels, the power for which is furnished by an engine in the kitchen, will propel the boats. The speed is estimated at about three miles an hour. Each boat cost in the neighborhood of $400.

LOOSE LEAF BOOK
AGENCY SECURED

W. E. Clinton Now Selling New Line of Office Books at Very Low Prices.

W. E. Clinton spent Friday and Saturday at the Business Methods and Advertising show in Chicago, which has been in progress at the Coliseum in that city the past week.

Mr. Clinton went down to investigate the new ideas in loose-leaf book devices, a branch of his business which has grown to considerable proportions in the past year or two. He found a wonderful display of loose-leaf books and arranged to handle a line of eastern made devices which have never been shown in the west, a line from which he can furnish loose-leaf ledgers, cash books or journals complete with one extra binder size 5x5 inches and 500 best grade ledger leaves at $5, any style of ruling; he has loose-leaf ledgers at from $1 to $22 to fit any business. This range of price is an innovation, as heretofore loose-leaf books, ledgers, etc., have cost from $20 to $50. It is the simplest and best line of office appliances yet placed on the market and in connection with the lines already represented by Mr. Clinton gives a wide range for selection. Mr. Clinton equipped the Merchants & Chances bank with six loose-leaf books and has also installed his loose-leaf systems in some sixteen other business institutions in the city. Call him by telephone or drop a postal; he will call and demonstrate the loose-leaf idea as applied to your business.

= FORTY YEARS AGO =

Janesville Daily Gazette, Tuesday, March 27, 1866.—Railroad Accident.—The westward bound train on the Milwaukee & Prairie du Chien Road met with a terrible accident last evening about a mile and a half east of Milton. A rail broke, throwing the two rear cars off the tracks, wrenching the hind most from the wheels and throwing it on its side. This was the pay car and occupied mostly by officers of the road. Very fortunately no one was injured, although it is difficult to see how some were not seriously hurt. The wreck was left and the balance of the train proceeded on its way.

Absent Minded.—A singular phenomenon is just now apparent in the police court. Persons who have hitherto been regarded as possessed of strong memory, are all of a sudden found to be entirely deficient in that faculty. This is more especially noticeable in cases where parties have been brought up to pay their dog tax. They can scarcely recollect how a dog looks, whether that animal walks on two feet or four feet, is covered with fur or bristles, and as for having owned one they have not the slightest notion that they ever did any such thing. Justice Hudson makes an application towards these patients which goes a long way toward restoring their waning memories.

Another Skeleton.—The Troy paper tells the following story, which upon inquiry we found even so:—

The city of Fulton, Ill., was thrown into a great commotion a few days ago, by the discovery of another dead body put up to order and traveling the usual way, as merchandise. It appears that four boxes—one "mysterious"—were shipped at Janesville, Wis., and countersigned to C. W. Hall, Boonesboro, Iowa. When the goods arrived at Fulton and were being transferred into the train to go west, the cover of the "mysterious box" came off, and out tumbled a headless body! The man in charge of the body dropped his truck with which he had been wheeling the "inanimate body" to the car and with ashy features, gave the alarm. Upwards to two hundred visited the warehouse to see the dead man. Some said it was "horrible," and the head of the deceased being missing, "showed signs of foul play." Others declared that they could not endure the stench. A dispatch was sent to Janesville, to ascertain if possible, the perpetrator of this outrage. The reply was that the head of the body would be forwarded as soon as the Tenians elected a head center, as the head of the deceased individual had been used in an emergency. Meanwhile some profane person ventured to place his hand on the dead body, and the mystery was solved. It was some kind of a "dummy" used by tailors on which to display their "fits." The wisemen who had been speculating as to the manner of his death withdrew, also the jury of six which was just ready to "sit" on the defunct party. It was said that it was the biggest sell on record, and the more so that every one was sold. The body (?) had been boxed up and forwarded to its destination.

Free Alcohol

Washington, March 27.—Free alcohol is to compete with the oil trust, it is the way and means subcommittee of the house carries its resolves into legislative enactment. It will on Wednesday next report a bill relieving domestic denatured alcohol from all internal revenue tax. Denatured alcohol can be made from corn, grain, roots and fruits—in fact, anything that grows and contains a percentage of starch. With the tax remitted the alcohol will be so low that it will become at once a competitor as fuel in motor cars. It will make a splendid substitute for kerosene oil for lighting. Besides it can be burned for heating purposes. A bushel of corn will make two gallons of alcohol. It can be produced in all sections of the country. Transportation charges will not enter into the problem of the local consumer of fuel and oil.

CHAPTER XIV.

At 2.30, prompt as a groom, Raymond brought the horses round to the door. Midwinter thought it was the sun was clear and warm, and as they went winding down the trail to the southwest Ann exclaimed over the exquisite quality of the air, the crystalline clarity of the distant peaks and the cloudless serenity of the sky.

After a short and steep descent they came out into a wagon road and were able to ride side by side.

"You must be prepared for very poor goods and very small stores," said Rob. "Bozle is very much to be compared even with Valley Springs. Everything is temporary. No one really intends to live there; they are all just staying, and I fear the millinery is not of the latest fashion."

"What a power lies in the idea of gold! See the people who have come from all over the world! Don't tell me that every European language is spoken here. Did I see Perry, the Mexican boy, at your cabin this morning?"

"Yes, Perry is here, and so is Baker. You have cause to remember Baker."

"When they entered the town Ann said:

"Please take me to a shop where I can get some chairs and a small table. I am going to present Mrs. Kelly with an easy chair."

"Very well," said he. "I know the very place, but please do not go about the streets alone. Of course you are perfectly safe, but you are a stranger and might wander into the wrong doors. Wait till I tie the horses and do one or two errands, then I will join you, and we can go where you please."

"Very well," she replied, with a feeling of pleasure in his care of her. "I will wait to visit several shops."

When Raymond returned for Ann, whom he had left at a furniture shop, he was filled with anxiety. The street was full of men drawn together by a report that the sheriff had stolen a march on Skytown and was already on his way to intimidate Bozle and demand those for whom his warrants called. Horsemen were galloping up the hill to warn the miners, and the chief of police and mayor were mingling with the growing throng, pleading for peace. The whole clamor resembled a nest of ants into which an ox had plaited a hoof.

Ann observed Raymond's abstraction and restlessness and asked, "Are you in haste to return?"

He answered quite calmly: "Yes, we ought to start back as soon as we can. I am going after the horses. Please remain here until I get back."

When Raymond returned the second time he was breathing rapidly. "Some one has borrowed our horses," he explained quietly, "and I must ask you to wait a little longer while I secure another for you."

"Will they not return them?"

"I am afraid not. They have probably gone up the hill to join Munro's men, and they will be returned at the stable. If you are not afraid—"

"Oh, no! I am not afraid!"

He looked at her in admiration. "I don't believe you are scared. Well, now, stay here till I can see what I can do about a horse."

Again Ann stood alone in the doorway, watching a group of men crouching on the flat roof of a two-story building opposite. Two of them had rifles in their hands, and some man was shouting from the walk, "Keep them guns out of sight!"

The girl began to tingle with a foreknowledge of violence. As she listened a wild cry went up from the roof tops, "Here they come!"

The throng below uttered answering shouts. Men began to run to and fro aimlessly, filling the street facing to the south. In the hands of both sides guns began to glitter. Their action was unreal, spectacular; but their voices shook her, benumbed her.

Raymond came hurrying back, his lips set and resolute, his brow frowning with anxiety. "I cannot find a horse that you can ride. I have ordered a team. We will have to go the back way to reach it."

A wilder yell arose. The leaders began to run down the street which led to the south. Ann took hold of Raymond's arm, with nervous clutch. "What are they going to do?"

"It's hard to tell. I wish we were safely out of this."

"Can't we run?"

"Run! Dear girl, you couldn't walk four blocks in this altitude. If you will come with me we will cross to the barn and get our carriage there."

Unconsciously clinging to his arm, Ann went down the back street as a dream.

They were already too late. The cross street was packed with men, and, looking down the hill, they saw the sheriff and his posse coming six abreast like a squad of cavalry, riding slowly up between the walls of stern and silent citizens of the great camp. Each deputy carried a rifle across the pommel of his saddle, and at their head, preceding even the sheriff, rode Matthew Kelly. His head was bare, and in his hand a long revolver gleamed. There was something in his face, in the lift of his head, that awed men. As he came he called out, not loudly, but every word could be heard.

"Also, now, boys! Respect the law. Also, I say! This is no fight of yours. Down with your guns! There are women and children to think of. Kape the peace!"

Raymond looked at Ann with eyes whose light amazed her. "By the Lord, I wish I were by his side!" He spoke through his set teeth.

"Go!" she said. "Do not mind me. Go help him."

Her voice recalled him. "No, my place is here," and his look meant more than any word he had ever dared to speak to her.

In the square Kelly halted, and the sheriff, throwing up his hand, commanded silence. He was visibly trembling, but he blustered to his purpose. "Where is your mayor and your chief of police?"

The chief stepped forth. "Here I am! What do you want of me?"

"I want you to deliver to me the men who assaulted Mackay."

The chief waved his hand toward the hills. "They are up there; go get them," said a roar of derisive applause went up.

Kelly raised his hand. "Boys, hear me! This is the sheriff, the properly constituted authority of this county. Be quiet now, and listen to reason."

The sheriff, gaining courage, took up the theme: "I have no war with Bozle," he said. "I came to get the men who assaulted Mackay and who defied my authority."

"Well, go get them," repeated a man in the crowd. "What are you doing here? You came here to intimidate us, and you can't do it!"

The crowd moved by some sinister impulse closed round the sheriff and Kelly, cutting them off from the main body of deputies. This movement opened a way of escape, and, expecting each moment to hear the crackle of guns, Raymond hurried Ann across the street and into the musty waiting room of the lively barn.

"Where is that team?" he shouted to a hostler who was looking out of a side door.

"The boss took it."

"Whose horse is this with the saddle on?"

"The hostler looked down for a moment. 'Superintendent of Loadstone,' 'Maynard's?'"

"Yes."

"I thought so. Well, you tell him that Rob Haynolu borrowed him for a lady. He turned to Ann. 'Come; we must get out of this.'"

She obeyed like a child, all her impetuous nature in subjection to his will. Lifting her to the saddle, he led the horse out the back way and through an alley into the main street and so to the hills. As they reached a fairly level spot in the trail he turned and looked back over the roofs of the houses.

"The sheriff is retreating—wherever he shows good sense," he pointed above them, where on Pine Mountain Munro's veterans stood waiting, backed by a thousand miners, focular with battle hunger, shouting faint defiance.

"I am sorry to be such a burden to you," said Ann. "I know you longed to be there with Matthew Kelly, and I have forced you to fight."

"I will be honest. I had that impulse. You see, I've been so in the

It was an experience which will give me something new to think about."

Kelly did not return till late. At about 9 o'clock he knocked at Raymond's door. "Get your gun," he said quietly. "We're on guard tonight."

And together they paced to and fro on the hillside, listening to the yells of drunken men up the street and to distant gunshots as the storm of battle swept away to the south of them. By midnight all was silent. The sheriff's forces were either repulsed or captured.

BY AN EMINENT AUTHORITY

The eminent source from which the prescription for Father John's Medicine originated is a sufficient guarantee of its value.

In the fifty years since it was prescribed for the late Rev. Father John O'Brien of Lowell, Mass., by whom it was recommended and from whom it derived its name, this old family remedy has never failed to do all that is claimed for it. It cures colds, grip, and all throat and lung troubles, builds up the body, prevents pneumonia and consumption. It is not a patent medicine, and we again call your attention to its freedom from poisonous nerve-deadening drugs or weakening stimulants, upon which the majority of patent medicines and so-called 'cough cures' and 'balsams' depend for their effect, and which are dangerous—we warn you against them."

Catarrhal Gastritis

"For two years I was in a very bad condition. I was treated by a number of eminent physicians for chronic catarrhal gastritis and dilatation of the stomach, and obtained no relief. I grew gradually worse, my breathing was so difficult at times that I thought I would die. My heart was in very bad condition from poor circulation and pressure of the dilated stomach. I decided it was only a matter of a very short time with me. I was advised to try Dr. Miles' Nerve and Heart Cure, and before I had finished taking one bottle of the medicine I felt like a new being. I took eight bottles of the medicine, and am entirely cured, for a matter of about $8.00 in the face of two hundred spent in the two years before without relief."
